

ISLAND CHATTER

WASHINGTON AREA PARROT HEAD CLUB NEWSLETTER, VOLUME 3, ISSUE 2

JUNE/JULY 2008

WAPHC Nets $5,800 for Alzheimer's Research!

In this issue:

- New Year's Eve Cruise Wrap Up and Presentation to the Alzheimer's Association (front)
- Featured WAPHC Committee: CHARITY
- Member Profiles:
 - Jan Holliday
 - Julie Hovden
- I DID IT - Report on Janice Easley's 2008 Avon Walk for Breast Cancer
- Annual Wreath Laying at Arlington Cemetery
- PHIP News/ MOTM Capsule
- Member Profiles:
 - Mike Lindsay
 - Kathleen Maloney
- CD Review -by Glenn Richcreek
- Editorial Notes
- Upcoming WAPHC Events!!

Wearing WAPHC shirts, from left, Event Lead Rock Kulisch, club president Libby Barker, and club secretary Joanne Richcreek present a check for $5,800 to Anthony ("Tony") Sudler, president and CEO of the National Capital Area of the Alzheimer's Association. Also in attendance from the Alzheimer's Association were Kate Owens and Susan Cherney. The proceeds came from the New Year's Eve Potomac River cruise.

On New Year's Eve, 2008, the Washington Area Parrot Head Club hosted a party on the Cherry Blossom and Partied With A Purpose once again to raise money for the Alzheimer's Association.

The party attracted Parrot Heads and non-Parrot Heads alike to see in the new year with two great bands, Tall Paul and Crawdaddy and Smalltown

A pre-party with raffles, basket raffles, 50/50s, music, and festivity started off the evening, followed by the four hour cruise, which featured a buffet dinner, catered by Mango mikes, open bar, and champagne at midnight.

Contributing to the night's success were many WAPHC volunteers who helped with everything from decorating the boat to manning the club store to selling raffle tickets, and much much more.

A good time was had by all!

Planning is already underway for New Year's Eve 2009!!! Watch the TWiP or this publication for details!!

WAPHC member Glenn Richcreek donates blood at the INOVA donor center in Annandale on a Saturday morning. Club members can donate blood at any time under the WAPHC INOVA account.

Jan and Julie in Key West

Featured Committee: CHARITY

Chairs: Jan Holliday and Julie Hovden

The WAPHC Charity Committee is responsible for exploring and recommending to the membership worthy service projects to pursue and worthy service organizations to support in connection with the purposes and mission of PHIP, Inc. and the Club. Plainly stated, they are the folks finding the “purpose” for our “Party with a Purpose” slogan.

Charitable Organizations that the WAPHC has worked with are the following: American Red Cross, Alzheimer’s Association, National Kidney Foundation, National Race for the Cure, Avon Walk for the Cure, Chesapeake Bay Foundation, Capital Area Food Bank, Alice Ferguson Foundation (Potomac river cleanup) , INOVA Blood Donor Center, Toys for Tots, Fund for Alexandria’s Child, Fisher House, the MS Society , and the American Cancer Society.

WAPHC Parrot Heads Participating in Charitable Activities

Dishing out a “bowl of red” during a recent DC 101 Chili Cook-off, to benefit the National Kidney Foundation.

Annual Potomac River Cleanup
Parrot Head Crew
(benefitting the Alice Ferguson Foundation)

Just some of the trash cleaned out of the Potomac River during the cleanup

Member Profile: Jan Holliday

Earliest musical interest: Roy Clark and Roger Miller 8-tracks; Barry Manilow's Greatest Hits

Favorite book: All of them. I am not kidding. The Fairfax County library sends people to me to borrow books.

Favorite movie: "Officer and a Gentleman"

CD you most like to listen to: Lately, "License to Chill."

Craziest thing you've done: Join the Army so I could write a book about it. It's 20 years later and I still haven't written the book.

Favorite place to vacation: Anywhere with a beach.

If you won the lottery: Take our entire extended families on a cruise.

What about you says 'parrothead': Um...my license plates?

Hobbies: Swimming, sailing, golf, going to the gym, reading.

Favorite WAPHC activity: Probably Boat Drinks Bacchanal in Lewes, even though it isn't technically a WASHINGTON area event.

Profession: Soldier

Pets/kids/spouse: Rick/Rick/Rick. He fits all three.

Hometown/college: Great Bend, Kansas...University of Kansas Jayhawks. Rock Chalk.

Anything else?: Nope. I'm sure that is WAY more than anyone ever wanted to know about me.

Member Profile: Julie Hovden

Earliest musical interest: The Beatles; The Monkees

Favorite book: Even Cowgirls Get the Blues; Half Asleep in Frog Pajamas

Favorite movie: The Big Chill; Shawshank Redemption; Philadelphia

CD you most like to listen to: Live from Anguilla; Magic

Craziest thing you've done: Moved to DC for a job and traveled to Europe twice by myself in my 40s

Favorite place to vacation: Warm climates with white sand beaches, clear blue water, and lots of sunshine

If you won the lottery: Give to charity, buy a beach house, and travel around the world

What about you says "parrot head": Wearing flip flops, sipping margaritas, enjoying what life has to offer

Hobbies: Cooking, gardening, biking

Favorite WAPHC activity: Socials, Potomac River clean-up, Fisher House picnic

Profession: Homeless Programs Specialist at HUD

Pets/kids/spouse: One grown son;

Hometown/college: University of Wisconsin-Madison

Anything else?: Love being a grandma. I hope to retire where close-toed shoes are not necessary! three grandchildren

Laying a wreath on a serviceman's grave, WAPHC Member Jan Holliday participated with an handful of members in the annual "Wreaths Across America" at Arlington National Cemetery

WAPHC Members take part in the annual "Wreaths Across America" at Arlington Cemetery

- by Jan Holliday

Several members of WAPHC joined thousands of other volunteers for the "Wreaths Across America" at Arlington National Cemetery on 15 December 2007. Club members Bruce Cwalina, Julie Hovden, Jan Holliday and John and Karen Kuch met up before the event, and members Glenn Richcreek and Don and Janice Easley as well as others attended on their own.

Our group laid wreaths on the graves of Karen's mother, a military spouse, and John's uncle, who died in World War II. Glenn laid wreaths at the graves of two WWII Army Infantry lieutenants from Ohio in honor of his father's service. Our group then took wreaths to Section 60, reserved for those who died in Iraq and Afghanistan, to find the gravesites of two service members with personal connections to me.

While on a day sail in Puerto Vallarta last November, Rick and I met the parents of United States Marine Corps Lance Corporal Russell White. Although the beautiful, sunny day on the water seemed incongruous with the subject, Gregg White and his wife of Dagsboro, Delaware, related to us how their son was killed in 2004 in Afghanistan. They are still unsure if his shooting by another Marine was intentional or an accident, but their pain at losing their son was evident. I like to think it was therapeutic for them to tell us the story and about Russell's life while we sipped margaritas on a beautiful sailboat in the ocean, just off the coast of Mexico. As we parted, I promised them we would visit Russell at Arlington.

We easily located his gravesite during the wreath event and left him a wreath alongside the beautiful Christmas decorations his parents had placed there a few weeks earlier. Bruce took this picture for me to send his parents. This was their reply:

"Dear Janet,

It touches our hearts that you took the time to visit our Russell's gravesite and place the wreath. It is people like you and Rick that warm our hearts and help us to go on, especially during this time of year. You have earned a very special place in our hearts.

God bless you and Happy Holidays,

Gregg"

The other gravesite I insisted on visiting was that of 1LT Kenneth Ballard. Ken died in August 2004 in an odd accident in Iraq. While turning his Bradley fighting vehicle to return to base after a firefight, a tree branch became entangled in the firing mechanism of the machine gun on the turret. The branches depressed the trigger, killing Ken instantly. Due to the fog of war, Ken's death was initially attributed to enemy fire. We did not find out the truth until almost two years later when I was working at Army Casualty here in DC.

Volunteers met at Arlington Cemetery to lay wreaths on over 30,000 graves in to commemorate the service to our country of the brave soldiers buried there, in observance of the holiday season. This annual event is an amazing effort by many volunteers to cover each grave with a wreath, all in the same day. It is a beautiful and moving remembrance of those who gave their lives for our country.

Ken's mother, Karen Meredith, is a friend of Cindy Sheehan's and a frequent protester against both the war and the current administration. I accompanied the Army official who had to fly to San Francisco to explain to her, two years later, how her son died. It was a very painful experience to watch as the old wounds were opened and we tried to both comfort Karen and assure her that the Army had not intentionally misled her about the death.

(continued on page 5)

“Wreaths Across America” continued from page 4

Karen eventually came to understand the difficulties inherent in the casualty reporting process and has become a great champion of both the Army and a valuable assistant in fixing casualty processes. She and I have stayed in touch, and I was honored to be able to lay a wreath at Ken’s grave as well. I sent Karen a picture as well and this was her response:

“Janet-How nice to see your name in my mailbox! Thanks so much for the photos and for thinking of Ken. Sometimes Arlington (and Ken) feel so far away and it makes my heart happy to know that Ken has visitors. I was at Arlington in Sept and couldn’t believe how many more new graves there were at Section 60.

Karen”

As we were leaving Arlington, we happened across Don and Janice Easley, who were searching for the grave of a Marine veteran to decorate in honor of Don’s father. All in all, the event was both touching and uplifting, and one we hope to continue in our Parrothead repertoire of helping others.

On May 3-4, I completed the Avon Walk for Breast Cancer. Why do I continue to push myself to participate in these events? Why do I continue to fundraise and train?

My first reason is personal as I continue to experience the stress of worrying when a new lump is detected and awaiting test results. It’s been 23 years since my first biopsy, and, lucky for me, my results have always been benign. A woman living in the U.S. has a 1 in 8 chance of developing

I DID IT!!! My Fourth Avon Walk for Breast Cancer!

- by Janice Easley

breast cancer in her lifetime! And let’s not forget that men can also be diagnosed with breast cancer. I stood beside a young man in his 30s last year who was a breast cancer survivor.

In addition to my personal reason, memories from previous breast cancer walks make me smile when I think about the people I met and the money I helped raise. When I first started participating in these events, I knew only one person who had been touched by breast cancer. Now I know more than I can count. In May, I walked to help more than 200,000 people in the US who will be diagnosed with breast cancer this year and in memory of more than 40,000 people who will die of breast cancer.

In the time it takes to read this newsletter, someone else will be diagnosed with breast cancer!

Day One – Opening Ceremony 6:00 a.m. – a very inspirational and moving ceremony while 3,500 walkers prepared to hit the trail. I stood behind two sisters with signs on their backs that said: “My Avon Walk – For Mom – I love you!”

One of my teammates, a 40-year-old mother of two, diagnosed with breast cancer this year following her FIRST mammogram proudly wore her sign that said: “My Avon Walk – for ME and my other breast cancer sisters.” At the end of day one, I completed a marathon (26.2 miles).

Day One took us past the beautiful monuments of Washington, D.C., through Georgetown, down Embassy Row past the National Cathedral and Glen Echo and through neighborhoods where children had set up snack and lemonade stands for us. People lined the streets cheering for us, and horns beeped as we walked together. I can still see the man cheering for us with a sign that said: “Thank you for walking for my wife.”

(continued on page 6)

Janice Easley—Breast Cancer Walk (continued from page 5)

Crew: Numbering several hundred strong, a very enthusiastic Avon Walk Crew (all volunteers) entertained us along the route. Rest stops provided us with food, fluids, and medical attention. Each stop had themes that made us laugh and take our minds off the aches and pains. Themes included "Saving Second Base, Life's a Beach" (with inner tube bras) and the Big Top for lunch featuring "Barnum and Boobies." The "Pope" even greeted us at lunch on Sunday and "thanked us for visiting."

Wellness Village: Eleven hours later, I arrived in Bethesda at the Wellness Village, otherwise known as camp for the night! Memories of the wellness village include: hot showers in semi-trucks, lots of port-a-potties, good food, and setting up our tents.

Sounds that you heard during the night: tent zippers as campers made their way to the port-a-potties and their doors slamming, and the sound of flip flops passing by the tent.

Day Two – started VERY early, before sunrise. The saying is that, when the first person gets up in camp, EVERYONE gets up! The course opened at 7:30, and we hit the trail for a half-marathon (13.1 miles).

Five and a half hours later, I was back in D.C. Welcoming walkers crossing the finish line was one of the highlights of the weekend. I stood by a family with two young boys waiting for their mother. They wore T-shirts that said: "My Mom is a Survivor." As the two boys crossed the finish line with their mom, there wasn't a dry eye to be seen.

Closing Ceremony – Reese Witherspoon joined us to celebrate our accomplishment and present the $8.1 million in checks to area organizations.

To participate in this event, I was required to raise at least $1,800. I am happy to say that I had my best fundraising year ever! My total fundraising was $6,224, and $1,533 of that was donated by WAPHC members and/or WAPHC raffles

That brings me to a total of approximately $25,000 that I have personally raised during my Four Avon Walks for Breast Cancer! Thank you again to everyone that helped me meet this personal challenge and for supporting breast cancer research with your generous donations.

“State of the Phlock”

- from PHIP

Bob Heffelfinger, Director of Membership, for Parrot Heads in Paradise, Inc., posted the following information on www.phip.com. Here is some of what Bob reported:

"We've also added several new chapters to the PHiP family already this year, with more on the horizon. At this writing, our organization stands at 227 chapters in the United States, Canada, and Australia ... 3 different countries, 47 states, 3 Canadian provinces, and one U.S. Territory. Our total membership remains steady with more than 25,000 dedicated, fun-loving Parrot Heads among the ranks."

He went on to say:

"In 2007, Parrot Head Clubs collectively raised for and/or donated to charitable organizations approximately $2.9 million. Perhaps more importantly, Parrot Heads carried on the tradition of volunteerism, as 2007 saw chapters worldwide donate more than 181,000 man-hours to philanthropic and environmental activities."

The WAPHC MOTM 2007 basket was won by a member of the Houston, Texas PH Club. In the middle of the photo is MOTM Raffle Chairman Joel Oates and to the right is WAPHC secretary Joanne Richcreek.

Parrot Heads “being themselves”....

Glenn Richcreek and Mike Lindsay at a recent Washington Nationals Game, with a glimpse of Larry Murray in back right (hand up)

Kenny Jenkins and Paul Peevy reminiscing in Key West on Paul's 50th Birthday at MOTM in 2007!

Dave Olkowski enjoying a recent Parrot Head event.

Could that gleam in his eye be due to the fact that he was going to be a daddy?

A Parrot Head By Any Other Name Would Still Be A Parrot Head - contributed by Glenn Richcreek

Just how DO you say “Parrot Head” in different languages?

Here are a few of the ways!

Spanish - repita cabeza cabeza de loro

French - tête de perroquet

German - Plappern Sie Kopf nach

Italian - ripetere a pappagallo la testa

Dutch - Het papegaaichoofd

Portuguese - cabeça de papagaio

Russian - голова попугая

Norwegian - papegøyehode

Bulgarian - така главата

Croatian - papiga glavu

Czech - papoušek hlavu

Danish - papegøje hovedet

Greek - παπαγάλος κεφάλι

Romanian -papagalul cap

Swedish - papegoja huvudet

Polish głowę Papuga

Source: Google, compiled by Glenn Richcreek

“Blame It On The Margaritas”

by ‘Howard Livingston and Mile Marker 24’
- CD Review, by Glenn Richcreek

Howard Livingston and Mile Marker 24 has come up with a nice 'chillin' to' CD. When you've had a rough day and just want to sit back and relax, this is for you!! Howard plus the seven-piece Mile Marker 24 band have come up with a delightful combination of sounds sure to give music fans a smile.

It's Trop-Rock at its mellowest, yet it keeps moving so you don't have to. By the second listen, you'll be singing along to the title track, “Blame It On The Margaritas.” “Local On The Eights” will have you considering whether to pack it in and head south. “Coconut Rum” has several uses (other than the usual) for that liquor. through with this, their third release.

This 11-song CD was released in 2007, just in time for MOTM. The Howard Livingston and Mile Marker 24 web site lists several scheduled performances at MOTM 2008, including two hours on Saturday, Nov. 1, from 6 to 8 pm. FYI: “Mile Marker 24” is a reference to Howard Livingston's home – 24 miles from Key West – so the guy knows the Keys.

Read more at <http://www.milemarker24.com>.

Member Profile: Mike Lindsay

Earliest musical interest: John Denver (mom played his records all the time).

Favorite book: Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas (Dr. Hunter Thompson – the late great satirist)

Favorite movie: Braveheart or Animal House

CD I most like to listen to: A1A by Buffett

Craziest thing ever done: Jumped off an interstate bridge into a lake in Connecticut

Favorite place to vacation: Key West

If I won the lottery: I might jump off a bridge into a lake. I might buy a house in Key West. I would definitely put A1A in the CD player, put Animal House in the DVD player, take good care of the family, donate a lot to cancer and Alzheimer's research, and buy you a beer.

What about you says "parrot head":

If you can't have sunshine, there is always a cold drink, a tropical shirt, good music, and good camaraderie to make you feel better.

Hobbies: Sunshine, cold drinks, tropical shirts, good music, and good times with family and friends.

Favorite WAPHC

activity: Potomac River Cleanups (charitable) and Concert Days (social)

Profession: Asset Manager and Assistant Vice President for Wells Fargo Multifamily Capital (McLean, VA)

Pets/kids/spouse: No pets (past or present). One son – Connor (born September 2006). One wife – Andrea (married July 2002).

Hometown/College: Born and raised in Alexandria, VA. Attended James Madison University (Harrisonburg, VA) from 1982 to 1987.

Anything else?: Two great quotes to live by:

1) Life is a waste of time and time is a waste of life. Get wasted all of the time and have the time of your life.

2) Only when the tide goes out do you discover who has been swimming naked.

Time for another team drink!

Member Profile: Kitty Maloney

Earliest musical interest: Elvis, Irish music, Cheap Trick

Favorite book: Pride and Prejudice

Favorite movie: Casablanca, Star Wars

CD you most like to listen to: Cheap Trick Live at Budokan, Bob Marley Legend

Craziest thing you've done:

Drove across country in 1989 Ford Escort that was losing bolts from the engine compartment

Favorite place to vacation: St. Maarten

If you won the lottery: Buy a house by the beach and find a charity to volunteer with to contribute back to the greater good.

What about you says 'parrot head':

Desk at work/house; "Cali girl" at heart....

Hobbies: Half-marathons (7 so far, and yes, one full marathon!); photography, wine

Favorite WAPHC activity: Too many to name

Profession: Attorney/Sr. Law Firm Management

Pets/kids/spouse: Do plants count?

Hometown/college: Camarillo, Calif./Long Beach, Calif.

Anything else?: Originally from Cocoa Beach, Fla.

Selected Summer Recipes...

- submitted by Lisa Craun

Help us to Find You, and Know You!

If you are not receiving your newsletter, please contact Bob Weschler, the Director of Membership at bins@yahoo.com. You need to actually sign up on the Yahoo Group in order to receive your news letter, but in order to do so, you need an invite .

You may have received one when you joined and have not responded. Thing is, till you join the Yahoo Group, you will miss out on receiving the TWiP, and also other important club news that is sent via the Yahoo Group as a blaster...

But it is not too late! Email Bob today, and get your invite to sign up if you have done so already! Fins Up!

Margarita Ice Cream

1/2 cup lime juice
2 tablespoons tequila
3 tablespoons orange liqueur (recommended: Cointreau or Triple Sec)
1 1/4 cups powdered sugar
2 cups heavy cream

Add the cream and then softly whip until thick and smooth but not stiff.

Spoon into an airtight container to freeze overnight. This ice cream does not need ripening (softening before serving), as it will not freeze too hard and melts speedily and voluptuously.

Pineapple Mojito's

12 fresh mint leaves
2 teaspoons sugar
1 lime, quartered
Ice cubes
4 tablespoons pineapple juice concentrate
1/2 cup white rum
1/2 cup club soda

Sugar cane sticks, for serving, optional

Divide the mint, sugar, and lime wedges among 4 old-fashioned glasses. Using a pestle (from a mortar and pestle) or the end of a wooden spoon, mash the mint, sugar, and lime together. Add some ice and top off with some pineapple juice concentrate, white rum, and club soda. Swirl with a sugar cane stick and serve.

Coming up in the next issue of Island Chatter:

- Spotlight Committee: Membership, Chaired by John and Karen Kuch
- Police Unity Tour story and pictures
- "Fostering the Future" Cruise article and pictures
- Alzheimer's Memory Walk Information
- Pictures from the Annual WAPHC Membership Picnic, and from our first ever float in the Fairfax 4th of July Parade...
- ... and much, much more! Stay tuned, and keep your fins up!

Attention: Parrot Head business owners and others who would like to reach the WAPHC Parrot Head "world":

Would you like to reach a targeted audience of Parrot Heads on a regular basis (at least 3-4 times a year), with a promotion for your business?

Now you can! Starting with the next issue of Island Chatter, we will be offering business card size ads to businesses who want to promote their goods or services to our members! The price per issue will be a very affordable $20 per ad!

The proceeds from this will go to defray the cost of producing this newsletter, with anything left over going towards the other administrative expenses of the club...

What an opportunity! If you are a member, or a business we frequent, and you want us to know about YOU, you can advertise HERE, for as little as $20 an issue!

And what is more, our newsletter is loaded online, and can be read by an even wider, larger audience there, too! What a great way to get the word out, and support the work and events of WAPHC in the process!

For more information, or to arrange to sign up your business or service, contact communications@waphc.com. Thank you in advance for all your support!

A Special “ Thank You”.....

To Beth Olkowski, co-Lead of the WAPHC Communications Committee.

Beth took on the task of first layout of this newsletter, while days away from the delivery of her new daughter, Emily.

In fact, she arranged to leave the newsletter on a disk for pick up if she had to suddenly go to the hospital...

This shows tremendous dedication to the Communications Committee and to getting the newsletter out! For that, all of us who have worked on the newsletter want to recognize Beth for her hard work and tremendous Parrot Head Spirit!

Congratulations to Beth, and her husband, Dave Olkowski, on the birth of their daughter, Emily, in June!

PARROT HEADS LOVE OUR PETS!!!

Does your family pet have that island spirit? If so, send his or her picture in for an upcoming feature on pets!

Lucy Ann Buffett (Jimmy's sister!) at 2007 MOTM with a Florida Club Member's service dog

Marty, one of the Olkowski family dogs, is ready to attend the next luau!

Editor's Notes: Contributors to WAPHC Island

Chatter this issue were the following:

- Glenn Richcreek
- Lisa Craun
- Rock Kulisch
- Joanne Richcreek
- Jan Holliday
- Janice Easley
- Beth Olkowski
- Joanne Young– Chewing

Want to contribute? Send articles, recipes, reviews, etc., to communications@waphc.com!

Looking for WAPHC Parrot Head Merchandise? Check out the Club Store!!!

The WAPHC CLUB STORE has great WAPHC merchandise available at the Kilroy's and Mango Mike's socials each month and also by request by emailing treasurer@waphc.com.

WAPHC Club Store merchandise available is as follows:

- * ALOHA SHIRTS - button-down Hawaiian shirts with embroidered WAPHC club name on the sleeve for $40.
- * WAPHC T-SHIRTS - silk-screened club logo on the back with small logo on the front for $20
- * WAPHC SHOT GLASSES - $5
- * WAPHC BEERNECKS - Beer bottle koozies with club logo with attached neck strap and bottle opener in red, green, and purple for $10
- * HAPPY SHARKS - Adhesive shark in a variety of colors for your car or anywhere you like for $6

Sleeve of a WAPHC Club Shirt

PARTY WITH A PURPOSE

The Washington Area Parrot Head Club was created to promote friendships and organize social activities for people with similar interests, including enjoyment of the tropical spirit of Jimmy Buffett's music. In the process of making new friends and having fun, we believe in leaving something positive behind. We are a non-profit organization that provides a variety of volunteer efforts in the local, regional and national community for social and environmental causes. Our club is open to anyone with the tropical spirit and desire to contribute to the betterment of our community.

WASHINGTON AREA PARROT HEAD CLUB

P.O. Box 1075
Springfield, VA. 22151

www.waphc.com

Address Label goes here!

Don't forget to watch the TWIP for the latest news and updates!

Upcoming Events!

Parrot Head Paul Rabinowitz— The "Town Crier" on the Megaphone while volunteering at the DC 101 Chili Cook-off that benefited the National Kidney Foundation

- Friday, July 25—Jerry Jeff Walker at the Birchmere—meet in the bar @no charge!
- Saturday, July 26: Party at the End of the Bay— Join our Maryland Parrot Head Phriends to "Party with a Purpose" details in the TWiP!
- Saturday August 30 and Monday, September 1— Jimmy Buffett in Concert at Nissan Pavilion!! Stay tuned for related activities!! Details are being worked out for the concert and events surrounding that week!

Still to come, later this year:

- October, 2008—Alzheimer's Association Memory Walk— details in the TWiP soon!
- October 31-November 3— MOTM in Key West - Annual Phlocking of Parrot Heads in Paradise—see details at <http://www.phip.com>
- December, 2008— WAPHC Holiday Party and Collection of Toys for Tots
- December , 2008— Annual Wreath Laying at Arlington Cemetery - details TBD
- December 31, 2008—NYE 2009 Party— details TBD!

... and much more!!